- The full text of the Material is presented in PDF format.
- The Publisher warrants long-term availability of the Material. If the Material should no longer be made available through the Publisher's platform, the Publisher will offer other options and inform the Licensees about these. Our journals and books are archived with Portico.

For the purpose of ILL, they may use an electronic file of (part of) the Material to send to the requesting institution. The requesting institution may only supply their requesting end user with a printed version and/or — if they are capable of this — to supply the requesting end user with single user, read-only access to the file for their normal term of loan. The requesting institution may not keep the electronic file or a printed version for any further or future purposes.
