

Fr. 11 Dec. 2020

9:00–9:30 Introduction, Procedure, Test of System

9:30–10:15 Friedrich Cain – System Optimisation: On the Responsibility of Socialist Science Studies

10:30–11:15 Miglena Nikolchina – Between Evasion and Confrontation: Opposing Communist Dogma in the Humanities: The Bulgarian Case(s)

11:30–12:15 Eduard Burget, Petra Loučová, Doubravka Olšáková – Grey Zone: Official or Dissent Science in Communist Academia? (working title)

Lunch break

13:15–14:00 Andreas Langenohl – Historiography Overtaken by History? The Self-authorization of Academic Historians in Russia of the 1990s

14:15–15:00 Anne Kluger – “Honecker’s Vassal” or a Prehistorian in Service of Science? The Concept of “the Scholar” in the Debate on Joachim Herrmann and the Evaluation of Former East-German Researchers in Reunified Germany

Sa. 12 Dec. 2020

9:00–9:45 Ionuț Mircea Marcu – The Historiographical Field in Post-socialist Romania: Institutions, Careers and Epistemic Innovations

10:00–10:45 Michał Pawleta – In the Shadow of the Omnipresent Past: The New Approach of the Contemporary Poles to the Archaeological Past

11:00–11:45 Andrea Pető – Making Illiberal Memory Politics via Creating Alternative Systems and In-sti-tutions of Academic Authority

Lunch break

12:45–13:30 Karin Reichenbach – Practices of Evidence in Pseudo-Science

13:45–14:30 Ella Rossman – Gender History in Post-Soviet Russia: Legitimation of the New Field and Research De-politicization

14:30–15:00 Final Discussion, Further Procedure