

Lisa Patt, M.A.
North American History, Erfurt University
E-Mail: lisa.patt@uni-erfurt.de

Research Interests

Political- and Cultural History of the U.S., LGBTQ+ History and Activism, Religion, U.S. News Media, Propaganda.

Academic Career

Since April 1st, 2020: Erfurt University

Research Associate, Associated Member of the Research Group Contested Democracy, and PhD candidate.

March 2022: German Historical Institute; Washington, D.C.

Doctoral Fellowship

2016 – 2018: Philipps-University Marburg

Master of Arts

North American Studies

Thesis: The Post-Apocalyptic American Jeremiad and U.S. History in Fallout: New Vegas.

2012 – 2016: Erfurt University

Bachelor of Arts

Major: English and American Studies

Minor: Global History, focus: North American History

Thesis: Intersexuality and the City as a Rite of Passage in Jeffrey Eugenides' Middlesex.

Sept. 2015 – Dez. 2015: Woodrow Wilson Int. Center for Scholars, Washington D.C.

Junior Scholar

Teaching

Winter term 2017/18, Marburg University:

The Beat Generation

Summer term 2018, Marburg University:

Queer History & Culture

Summer term 2020, Erfurt University:

Nostalgia in History

Winter term 2020/21, Erfurt University:

Erinnerungen / Remembrance (IPS)

Summer term 2021, Erfurt University:

History of United States News Media

Winter term 2021/22, Erfurt University:

Fremdsein / Otherness (IPS)

Lisa Patt, M.A. // Department of North American History, Erfurt University

Summer term 2022, Erfurt University:

Cultural History of Politics

Winter term 2022/23, Erfurt University:

U.S. Democracy & Crises

Talks and Presentations

Conference on Identity Politics, LMU Munich

Research and Project Presentation, German Historical Institute

Midterm Election Event 2022, Erfurt University