

Workshop: Traces of Mind Control in American Cold War Culture
Erfurt, Universität, LG IV, D01, sowie Kl. Synagoge, 15/16 June 2011

15 June 2011 (Universität, LG IV, D01)

6.00-6.15 pm: Welcome (Olaf Stieglitz, Erfurt University/Sharon Ullman, Bryn Mawr College/Erfurt University)

6.15-8.15 pm:

Talk: Cold War Captives: Incarceration in the International Politics and Imaginary Practices of Postwar America (Susan Carruthers, Rutgers University)

Talk: How Does It Feel?: Emotional Rebellion in the Cold War Era U.S. (Grace E. Hale, University of Virginia)

Commentary (Susan Strasser, University of Delaware/FU Berlin)

DINNER

16 June 2011 (Kl. Synagoge)

9.30-12.00 am

Project Presentation I: Traces of Mind Control in American Cold War Culture

- Conceptual Introduction: (Olaf Stieglitz, Erfurt/Sharon Ullman, Bryn Mawr College/Erfurt University)

- Database Presentation (Nadya Arzouni, Robert Fischer, Nina Mackert, Jan Taubitz)

LUNCH

2.00-2.45 pm

Sources I: Lie Detectors (Silvan Niedermeier, Erfurt University)

2.45-3.30 pm

Sources II: Juvenile Delinquency (Nina Mackert, Erfurt University)

COFFEE

4.00-4.45 pm

Sources III: Religion (Uta Balbier, King's College London)

4.45-5.30 pm

Sources IV: Good War Movies (Sebastian Haak, Erfurt University)

DINNER

Coordinated by Jürgen Martschukat/Olaf Stieglitz (Erfurt University), Sharon Ullman (Bryn Mawr College/Erfurt University)